

USING THE FREE TOOLS FROM FLTPLAN.COM TO GET THE MOST OUT OF FLYING

Ken and Denise from FltPlan.com will review the many free tools available to pilots from FltPlan.com. FltPlan was started in 1991 and was the first company to offer online flight planning. FltPlan.com is the largest flight planning service in North America with over 160,000 active pilots. FltPlan.com files more flight plans daily than American, Delta, and United combined.

Ken Wilson – President, FltPlan.com

Flying since age 15, with 27,000 hours flight time, Ken grew up in aviation and is a former Part 135 chief pilot, Part 141 chief flight instructor, and Fortune 500 flight department captain. Ken recently retired from United Airlines as an international captain flying the Boeing 767 and 777.

Ken is also a current CFII MEI, FAA-licensed Dispatcher, and IS-BAO SMS Auditor.

Ken currently flies a Piper Archer. During the presentation, Ken will be sharing some fun flying stories as well as his techniques for keeping you piloting skills sharp.

Denise Wellspeak – IT Project Manager

Denise joined FltPlan.com over 5 years ago as an outside contractor supporting FltPlan Go. The role quickly progressed to a full-time position organizing, coordinating, and implementing FltPlan’s growing list of innovative products and mobile apps.

As Project Manager, Denise has implemented an App Quality Control Program, an Interactive Pilot Training Program, and has been integral in the launch of several new premium services.

Denise’s passion for flying lands her in the right seat of the Cherokee for many “fun” flying adventures.
